

{NO. 25.

YOLO COUNTY DEMOCRAT.

SATURDAY, MAY 15, 1889.

DEAD WEIGHTS.—There is a class of men whose generic name may not be better arrived at than by the old law description of "common scolds." Such men are often gifted with the talent to get better men into their troubles, just as an irritable poodle dog frequently causes fights among larger dogs. By a fortunate dispensation they are not confined to any one party or church. For example, we might point out Charles Sumner and Henry A. Wise—a pair of monomaniacs, representing at one time the two old communities of Massachusetts and Virginia. The political vagaries of Sumner were then, and are to-day, elements of disturbance and weakness to his party, while the party with which Wise acts may not only desire to be absolved from his friendly aid, but may point back to the time when he was arrogantly manufacturing capital for the fanatical abolitionists who were then eagerly desirous of being persecuted and martyred into power. Once John Quincy Adams presented to the lower branch of Congress a petition from some ladies living in the region of Cape Cod, asking for a law prohibiting the internecine warfare of blacks and whites. This right of petition was secured to them by the Constitution; but Mr. Wise rose in his seat and moved that the petition be not received, and after some argument and much magniloquent balderdash, the petition was smothered. This was what Adams wanted, and it was not long afterward before the then abolition party cited this action to show that the proslavery men in Congress had violated the Constitution by an absolute denial of the right of petition. Now, how much better it would have been had some member moved the reference of the petition to a proper committee, so that it would have passed the usual rounds and been finally refused in a legal and courteous manner.

Such men are not all gone yet, for it has only been a few months since we saw how officiously certain over-zealous Radicals in Congress insulted the sovereign State of Oregon by returning to the Governor, with insolent language, certain resolutions sent by Oregon to Congress. To-day the two great political parties are cursed with an unusual number of marplots and common scolds—men utterly impracticable and dangerous to the entire public—men who stand in the way of and impede the great measures of finance and conciliation required to heal our nation's scars and set us again in the road of progress and civilization. Among such impracticables, we would like to know of what use are such creatures as fighting Pollard, the Richmond pistol-sharp, or George Francis Train, the garrulous and contemptible, or the many kindred humbugs, who modestly ask the public to give them serious attention in a time like this, when the gravest and most momentous subjects are about to be presented for the consideration of the people.

THE JUBILATION.—The whole country is still wild with delight over the grand railroad hand-shaking celebration at Sacramento. Perhaps more people came away satisfied with themselves, with Sacramento and with the State of California than were ever before known to return from any other frolic. It was a wonderful gathering that met that day to celebrate the grandest feat of the age. To a stranger what a sight it must have been to watch the men, women and children of California, Nevada, Oregon and Utah meet with greetings which showed that almost every individual had "prospected" in every part of the country till almost the entire throng were acquaintances!

The Sacramento Union estimates that the visitors amounted to between fifteen and twenty thousand. According to estimates made by some of our friends there must have been at least thirty thousand. At all hazards we may say it was much the largest gathering ever known on this coast and immeasurably the most pleasant.

PARTISAN LAW.—The Supreme Court of Nevada, a few days ago, decided that the White Pine County Bill is constitutional—in other words, that the officers appointed for the people of that county by the Governor and Legislature can legally hold their positions, although it was known and boldly admitted at the time the law passed, that the people of White Pine county would surely elect a full Democratic ticket. This is pretty Radical law for the free and loyal State of Nevada; but it cannot last many years more, unless the Radicals hurry in their allies from China and make voters of them.

ENCOURAGING.—A Chicago dispatch says the President does not look with favor upon the idea of accepting St. Domingo and her neighbors, even as a free gift. This is the most striking evidence of sanity in the new administration we have yet seen.

ALL RIGHT.—Grant is turning out white printers in the National Printing Office to make room for negroes. All right. No doubt the whites all voted for Grant and have no right to complain now.

ORPHANS' HOME.—The Vallejo Chronicle, of the 12th inst., says: A large assemblage of people attended the ceremonies of laying the corner stone of the Good Templars' Home for Orphans, on Tuesday afternoon, near Vallejo.

The Chico Good Templars have issued an address in which they declare they will support no candidate for office at the approaching election who is a drinking man, no matter of what political party he is a member.

What Is It?

If General Grant, in good faith, attempts the reforms attributed to him and complies with his fair promises, we can see but one objection to his supposed policy, and that objection is to the enunciation of the proposition that "the will of the people is the law of the land;" for it will never do for any Government to exist upon a tenure of authority so vague and uncertain. It is, in other words, saying that this Government shall away hither and thither at the beck and nod of the artful and the dishonest men who know too well how to influence and sway the passions of men. When the people of the United States were furious, in the midst of a bitter civil war, we of this coast, distant as we were from the real scene of action, saw how the over-heated passions of men induced special legislation of the worst and most dangerous kind, and how even the glorious emblem of our nationality, our starry flag, was frequently used for purposes of insult and wrong by a dominant and excited party. We saw fanatics and traitors who had cursed that flag and proposed to tear it down as "a taunting lie"—men who had never carried it on any former field, now haunting it in the faces of the party that had made it respected the world over.

The "will of the people" in that day made it the law of the land that there was a divinity hedging in a President, making him so much better than a common man as to make it right and proper to imprison and torture any citizen who spoke disparagingly of Mr. President. Afterwards, in a few brief months, the same capricious and mobile will made it perfectly loyal and right to curse and revile the President and to persecute all who refused to join in the out-cry against him.

When a statesman speaks of the will of the people, he does not mean the mob-passions of the community; when a charlatan dilates upon the subject, he means what Napoleon or any other artful usurper and tyrant means—something that can be blindly manipulated to the general ruin and desolation. When the Radicals were in the very pinnacle of power, the will of the people was the singular commodity they made use of while robbing the National Treasury of millions of dollars. It was in deference to this kind of popular will that the pulpit itself was desecrated and profaned by hypocrites of the Titus Oates variety, who used the very teachings of Christ to influence one portion of our people against the other. When somebody can tell us what is the will of the people, and how it can be distinguished from the passions of the people, we will be better prepared to understand Gen. Grant's proposition. Until then the matter must be disregarded for its uncertainty and noncommittalism. Like Van Buren's noncommittal letter on the Texas question, it will be very apt to prove one of the greatest of political blunders—and political blunders are said to be crimes.

WOMAN'S RIGHTS.—At the meeting of the Anti-Slavery Society, held in New York on the evening of the 11th inst., a lively spat occurred between the Reverend Stephen C. Foster and Miss Anthony. Stephen charged Miss Anthony with having left an official situation in the society under discreditable circumstances and with certain accounts in very bad shape. Miss Anthony rose promptly, and in a manly tone, pronounced the Reverend gentleman's statement false. At this juncture Mrs. Stanton also came to the fight and gave the person to understand that she would not permit him to throw any slur upon her. Fred Douglass attempted to stop the fuss, but was interrupted by Foster, who, in turn, was threatened by the ladies, who by this time were excited to the boiling and fighting point. The result was that the Rev. Mr. Foster was defeated, and the whole affair would have broken up in a general riot if some artful member had not introduced a fresh quarrel on a new subject. During this delectable scene Senators Wilson, of Massachusetts, and Stewart, of Nevada, were speakers. How wonderful this last mentioned fact looks to some of us who knew Stewart when he was a violent secessionist.

PIXLEY TRIUMPHANT.—Pixley, it appears by telegraph, has triumphed over Sargent, notwithstanding the damaging facts brought to light touching certain transactions in which that redoubtable individual appeared as hero. The Call, noticing the fact, says: Pixley's brief experience "at the front" with Grant has proven of good service to him. That, in connection with his perseverance and cheer, have secured him the United States District Attorneyship for this State, in spite of the damaging evidence against him in Fundy's report, in spite of his opposition to Coey, and in spite of the opposition of Sargent, Stewart and Gorham. By appointing Pixley, it is evident that the President places no reliance upon the sworn statements of Gorham, or else that he has a kindly feeling for those given to practices of doubtful morality. Gorham swore, before Private Secretary, Pixley had possession of money belonging to the State; that he endeavored to retain possession of it wrongfully, and that he gave it up to prevent exposure and prosecution. In face of this testimony, and the testimony of Fundy, the President has appointed Pixley to a responsible office. Great is the influence of Pixley with Grant; immense is his energy; unrivaled is his perseverance.

A NEW WAY TO RAISE THE WIND.—The negro Menard, who was sent to Congress from Louisiana, and did not get his seat, has started a paper in New Orleans, and, as an inducement for subscribers, offers to give each person who subscribes for his paper a likeness of the first negro ever sent to Congress. Menard manifests his capacity for Congressional duties. Having failed of a chance to sell himself in Congress, he takes to selling his picture out of it. That "colored person's" talent should be encouraged. [Call.]

DEMOCRATIC STATE CONVENTION.—The Democratic State Central Committee assembled Wednesday at 12 M., at the office of the Secretary of the Committee, General T. N. Cazanave. There was a full attendance of the members of the committee in person by proxy. After careful consideration it was resolved to call a State Convention to meet in Sacramento city, on the 29th day of June next, for the purpose of nominating two candidates for the office of Supreme Judge, and to transact such other business as may be believed necessary to secure the complete success of the Democratic party in September and October next. [Reporter.]

A MATRIMONIAL ADVERTISEMENT.—Some time during the Winter an advertisement appeared in one of the New York papers, saying a young widow, nineteen years of age, of high standing in society and having a large fortune in her own right, wished to correspond with a thoroughly educated young man of equal standing in society, "with a view to matrimony," which was at once answered, among others, by a dashing young gentleman who lived in New Haven. His reply from the "young widow" was all that, he could desire, and wound up by saying, "If, after examining my likeness, you think that you might learn to love, I shall be pleased to meet you on Tuesday evening next, at No. ———— Eight street." And also told him not to call before eight o'clock, and to enquire for Mrs. De Forest. This was rather more than the young man, who had answered the advertisement by way of a joke, expected, and he began to feel a little serious over the matter, inasmuch as the letter was written in a very delicate hand, and the picture enclosed was of an exceedingly handsome woman, whose face wore an expression which showed that the pride of birth and fortune was in the blood that gave to it the rosy flush of beauty.

Accordingly, on the evening mentioned, our hero entered in his best, found himself in New York, and in due time at the house where he was to meet the young widow, which, a few moments after being ushered into the parlor, he did. At her entrance, she advanced, seized him cordially by the hand, and expressed her pleasure at meeting him. A candid young gentleman, he beheld one of the handsomest types of beauty he had ever seen. After a few minutes' chat about Lent, opera, etc., the young widow suddenly changed the subject, and said, looking searchingly and tenderly into the eyes of her companion, "I suppose you might as well talk about the matter which we have met to consider." She then went on and talked quite rapidly and intelligently, giving a sketch of what was quite an eventful life, which was finally interrupted by a voice in the hallway outside of the room, exclaiming, "Where's Annie?" A moment later, the door opened, and a gentleman entered the parlor, saying, "Look here! you are up stairs! Up to your old tricks, I see." This interruption broke on the susceptible heart of our young gentleman like a terrible calamity, and the effect was greatly heightened when the young widow immediately commenced pouring out a volume of epithets on the intruder, which were quite as eloquent as they were profane. This was followed by her forcible removal, after which the young man was informed that he had been having an interview with an insane woman, who imagined herself a great heroine of romance, and that a constant watch had to be kept over her to prevent her having similar interviews with strangers. The young man returned home, a sadder and a wiser man.

THERE is a sublime simplicity in the startling discovery which the Chicago Republican has made with regard to the greatness of Galena. The little city of Galena, says the Republican, "has given to the world U. S. Grant, President; John A. Rawlins, Secretary of War; E. B. Washburne, Minister to France; Mr. Moore, Assistant Secretary of Legation at Paris; H. H. Houghton, Consul to La Haina; and B. H. Campbell, U. S. Marshal for Northern Illinois, not to mention C. B. Davis, the coming man." The New York World thinks that the next to somebody's discovery that, by a gracious dispensation of Divine Providence, large rivers always run by large towns, there is nothing more wonderful—unless it be the discovery of the great extent of astonishing executive ability in the Deuts and remarkable administrative power in the Casseys and Sharps.

ORGANIZE.—The Sonoma Democrat makes the following appeal to the Democracy of Sonoma county: Democrats, arise! We speak to each and every one. There is no more use for idlers. Dangers surround the great bulwark of liberty—the Constitution—and threaten to rob the people of every sacred right. Already the struggle has been commenced on your part. You have a wily and unscrupulous enemy to contend against. Organize your clubs, circulate your papers, talk and counsel with your opponents, see that the right kind of men are sent as delegates to the Convention, nominate a sound ticket, and then make a determined stand against corruption, robbery and the Fifteenth Amendment, and victory by an overwhelming majority will be the reward.

RAILROAD ITEMS.—The Marysville Appeal of Wednesday, has the following concerning the California and Oregon Railroad, and the Vallejo Railroad from Marysville to Woodland: It is reported that the California and Oregon Railroad will be extended to Antelope Ranch, Tehama county, by the first of September. It will soon be known whether the Company will run a track direct to Chico. Murray & Hickok have taken a contract for grading on the Vallejo Railroad, and will commence operations on Trego's ranch on Monday next, grading southward and toward the old work. The letting of this contract gives renewed hopes of the Vallejo Railroad this season.

A NEW-ANGLED warboard from Michigan passed through the city by express yesterday, directed to "Hon. Andrew Johnson, ex-President of the United States, and universal defender of constitutional liberty in Tennessee." We have no doubt that when Andy gets it he will feel that he has been admitted to get washed, wrung out and hanged to dry. [Cincinnati Commercial.]

Andy has undertaken a far bigger job of scrubbing than that, and will need all the "tearings" washing-machines in the country before he gets the dirty Radicalism of Tennessee "cleaned out." But he is bound to do it sooner or later, and as soon as he finishes up the unenviable task, we have no doubt he will feel the need of personal ablutions, and fully appreciate the Commercial's admonition. [St. Louis Times.]

DEMOCRATIC STATE CONVENTION.—The Democratic State Central Committee assembled Wednesday at 12 M., at the office of the Secretary of the Committee, General T. N. Cazanave. There was a full attendance of the members of the committee in person by proxy. After careful consideration it was resolved to call a State Convention to meet in Sacramento city, on the 29th day of June next, for the purpose of nominating two candidates for the office of Supreme Judge, and to transact such other business as may be believed necessary to secure the complete success of the Democratic party in September and October next. THE HEAVENS BRIGHT.—The Abolition fanatics known as the American Anti-Slavery Society held their annual meeting in New York on the 11th. Wendell Phillips announced that "All the signs of the times were on the side of anti-slavery." The fool True, the negroes are free, but how about the whites? All the signs of the times are on the side of their enslavement. Negro license is white man's slavery. The bondocrats and manufacturing monopolists have now their feet on the necks of the white masses. It is the old war of capital against labor. The people are fast becoming the hewers of wood and drawers of water to an unprincipled and grasping set of moneyed aristocrats as ever oppressed and plundered a country. Anti-slavery, as applied to the negro, means his ruin and extinction. [Examiner.]

County Official Paper.

TOWN AND COUNTY MATTERS.

Crops.—During a flying visit throughout the southern and western portions of the county we have had a fine opportunity of seeing the growing crops, and conversing with farmers. Near Plainfield—perhaps the finest wheat-growing locality south of Cache Creek—not more than two-thirds of a crop will be harvested. Much of the grain on the ranches of C. E. Greene and Jas. T. Lillard will barely pay the expense of harvesting, and the best and earliest sown will be light compared with the expectations one month ago. This is also true of all the fields between Plainfield and the foot-hills for a distance of twelve miles. Buckeye, Benj. Ely has some fine looking fields, but the prospect of harvesting shrunken grain is altogether too good. Along the foot-hills, from Plainfield to Cache Creek, a distance of fifteen miles, perhaps more than one-half the grain is headed out—being only from ten to twenty inches high. We learn that G. W. Scott, on Cottonwood, has several hundred acres which will scarcely yield ten bushels per acre, but the greater portion of his crop is a fine one for the season. The same may be said of the vast fields of the Stephens Brothers, on Cache Creek; land on which they harvested twenty-seven bushels per acre last year, will this season probably yield eighteen bushels. The hay crop, which is already cut, is very light—very few farmers in the county have a good crop of hay, which have been so frost during the Spring, to be relieved from all trouble of harvesting this season.

POLICE COURT.—The Court of Justice Henry, which has recently been removed to the fine building occupied by Berliner & Hirsch, has done a pretty lively business during the past week in the shape of arrests and fines. Believing that the parties can do better if they try, we shall not mention names this time, but hereafter shall make it a point to give publicity to such things as an assistant measure of prevention. One young man came into town, seven miles, to whip an old citizen of Cache Creek, who had the day before hit a friend of his a sockdologger. The young man from up towards Colusa was one of the last individuals that people in this part of the country would go seven miles to whip. The youngster was gone and eager, and the man he was after was kept from teaching him a severe lesson by the advice of friends. Another individual, becoming inspired by the talk of war, made his entry into the embroglio in a brilliant and impressive style by throwing a can of his shoulders at the head of the young man from up towards Colusa, slightly fracturing the outer crust of the skull, and causing him to strike the ground with much force and finally to fall into the hands of the officers of the law. A few twenty-dollar pieces paid into the county treasury finally settled the matter, and the belligerents adjourned to their several homes, a little astonished that such matters should, in a free country, cause any such expensive outlay of money.

PROPOSED CELEBRATION.—It is being moved by some of the citizens of Woodland and vicinity, that as the railroad from Davisville to this place will shortly reach here, the occasion would be well worthy of one of those pleasant county festivals, for which the groves of Woodland are so well adapted. We have no doubt but that the thing can and will be done to the entire satisfaction of our whole county and such outside visitors as will be attracted by such an occasion. It is hardly necessary to call attention to the fact that there is both pleasure and profit in it.

RUNAWAY-NARROW ESCAPE.—On Tuesday evening last, while crossing the railroad grade near the residence of Judge Woods, a team driven by Mr. Stanley became unmanageable in consequence of the wagon-pole dropping from the neck-yoke. Mr. S. reined the horses toward the fence with such force as to upset the wagon and pile it and the driver in one general wreck. Fortunately, the horses became detached and went off at a lively pace. Mr. S. crawled out, took a good look at himself, saw some bad-looking flesh wounds, but could find no broken bones.

CREDIT GIVEN.—Sheriff Minis and two of his deputies, Messrs. Lawson and Boyle, deserve very great credit for having prevented several fights on Wednesday last. These officers are not required by law to patrol the town as day policemen, and consequently are the more deserving of the thanks of the community for these gratuitous services—especially when by this system of prevention they deprived themselves of the fees which would have resulted from letting our belligerent visitors fight out their quarrels.

INSTALLATION.—The following named persons were installed as officers of Woodland Lodge No. 237, I. O. G. T., for the ensuing term, on Tuesday evening last: Jerome Baker, W. C. T.; Miss Emma Fisher, W. R. H.; Mrs. J. L. Plomteux, W. L. H. S.; Mrs. L. M. Garret, W. V. T.; H. W. Fiske, W. S.; Miss Lizzie Frost, W. S.; J. H. Stockwell, W. F. S.; Mrs. E. L. Fiske, W. T.; G. W. Myrick, W. M.; Mrs. E. Davidson, W. D. M.; Miss Jennie Baker, W. G.; Edwin E. Giddings, W. O. G.; Rev. W. C. Curry, W. C.; Byron Jackson, P. W. C. T.

HANDSOME SUM.—We inadvertently omitted last week to state that the Ball for the benefit of the Good Templars' Orphans' Home was a complete success—everybody enjoying themselves to the utmost, and the managers realizing $111.50 for the Orphan Fund. If all the Lodges throughout the State could do as well as the one here, quite a handsome sum might be raised for a truly praiseworthy object.

PERSONAL.—Among the new advertisements in to-day's Democrat may be seen the card of Messrs. Alexander & Armstrong, to which we point with the more pleasure because Mr. Armstrong has for some time past been a citizen of our county, having his residence in Washington, and a very considerable practice both in our county and across the river in Sacramento.

RETURNED.—C. H. Gray, of the firm of Gray & Freeman, of this place, returned on Wednesday last, after a brief visit to the Sandwich Islands and different points on this coast. May it be long ere he must again leave us as an invalid in search of health.

COUNTY WORK.—We observe that Jailor Boyle is using the county prisoners to work about by day in beautifying and white-washing in and around the court house square.

OUTSPOKEN.—Despite the efforts of Radical Senators to muzzle him, Senator Sprague continues to pour hot shot into the ranks of his party. The following is an extract of a speech recently delivered by the Senator in the United States Senate:

It is from a deep sense of duty that I have heretofore communicated to the Senate and the country, and am now about to further communicate the results of my reflections upon the deplorable condition of our country, which, I am satisfied, has been in great part brought about by laws enacted here without knowledge or regard to the people. The whole course of your legislation is designed to protect and sustain monopolies, not at all to protect the masses of the people.

[COMMUNICATED.]

EDITOR DEMOCRAT: A vagabond set of fellows who have possession of a small quantity of type and other printing materials, and who are so ignorant as to imagine that those articles constitute a newspaper, are in the habit once a week of thrusting into public notice a boastful offer that they will do the county printing for $200 per annum, thereby saving the county $700 a year. This is like the combined ignorance and impudence of the loafer, who upon learning that the President of the United States received $25,000 a year, offered to take the position and perform the duties for his board and whisky.

When this set of patriotic and economical contractors next repeat their offer, let them tell the public who are the owners of their vast and magnificent printing establishment, and whether or not the whole concern would sell for $200. Let them also explain away the whisper on our streets that this establishment is owned so mysteriously as to render it impossible to collect a small board bill from one of its operatives, and a small livery stable bill from the other; also, why these mysterious contractors are never trusted for a cent by anybody that ever trusted them once before. The question is, who owns the establishment? If this question is answered satisfactorily, so that the proper responsibility can be fixed, a few other questions will follow.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

GENERAL DEBILITY IS NATURE'S APPEAL FOR HELP.—Thousands of persons, without any specific ailment, are the victims of languor and lassitude. The unthinking are apt to confound this species of inaction with laziness; whereas it usually arises from a want of organic energy, for which the subjects of it are no more responsible than the near-sighted are for their defective vision. Such persons, although they may be free from pain, are as truly invalids, and as much in need of medical aid, as if they were tormented with the pangs of acute disease. They require a tonic and alternative that will rouse and regulate their torpid organizations. In cases of this kind Hostetter's Stomach Bitters produce an immediate and most favorable effect. The debilitated and desponding valetudinarian, who feels as if he were but half alive; who shuns company and has no relish either for business or pleasure, is metamorphosed by a brief course of this most potent vegetable invigorant, into quite a different being. The change effected by the Bitters, in his bodily and mental condition, is a surprise to himself and to his friends. He hopes no longer; the active principle of life, which seemed to have died out of him, is re-awakened, and he feels like a new man. Remembering that debility is not only an affliction itself, but an invitation to disease, no time should be lost in recruiting the broken-down system with this choicest and most potent of all tonics and nervines. myl-1m

POETRY AT THE MINES.—California gold diggers are, as a rule, liberal, whole-souled fellows, but there is one article in general use among the fraternity, that no miner is willing either to give away or sell, if he happens to be far removed from the source of supply. This precious commodity is PLANTATION BITTERS, the value of which, as a safeguard against malarious fevers and a support and solace under privation and hardship are well understood by every member of that adventurous class. Last Fall a miner who was "prospecting" on one of the tributaries of the Mariposa, had a bottle of the elixir (the only one he possessed) stolen from his tent. After having obtained, with some difficulty, a fresh supply from Sacramento, he scrawled the following lines on the lid of the box containing it:

"Who steals my dust steals trash, these yellow diggers' Afford the means to pay me for such priggings; But, if I catch them, woe to the mean critters That rob my tent of Plantation Bitters."

JUSTICE TO THE JESUITS.—Although the Jesuits were at different times expelled from all the courts of Europe, for alleged political practices, it must be admitted that they rendered one great service to mankind. They covered the medicinal properties of the famous Bark that has so long borne their name, and which is now one of the most potent ingredients of the celebrated Plantation Bitters, the most popular tonic of modern times. Of this wonderful vegetable product, now known as Colley's Bark, Messrs. F. H. Drake & Co., the proprietors of the Bitters, are the largest importers on this continent. It contributes materially to the efficacy of the best invigorant and anti-bilious preparation ever compounded, and in association with various other botanical tonics and alteratives, and with pure St. Croix rum, is accomplishing such cures of dyspepsia, liver complaint, periodical fevers, constitutional debilities, etc., etc.

Misfortunes Never Come Singly.

[A literary wag thus turns Parnassus into a sheep-pasture, with a parody of Hiawatha:]
Never jumps a sheep that's frightened
Over wall, or fence or timber,
But a second follows after,
And a third upon the second,
And a fourth, and fifth, and so on;
First a sheep and then a dozen,
Till they all in quick succession,
One by one have got clear over.
So misfortunes, almost always,
Follow after one another,
Seem to watch each other's ways,
When they see the fall uplifted,
In the air the fall uplifted,
As the sorrow leapeth over,
So they follow thicker, faster,
Till the air and earth seem darkened
With the tails of sad misfortunes.

The Glorious West.

The following amusing burlesques of the style of journalism prevalent in the far west were copied recently into an English paper, with severe comments upon the shocking condition of the American barbarians of the Plains:

A little bit of romance has just transpired to relieve the monotony of our metropolitan life. Old Sam Chiggins, whom the editor of this paper has so often publicly threatened, has returned from Mad Spring with a young wife. He is said to be very fond of her, and the way he came to get her is this: Some time ago we courted her, after shooting her brother and two cousins. She vowed revenge, and promised to marry any man who would horsewhip us. This Sam agreed to undertake, and she married him on that promise. We shall call on Sam to-morrow with our new shot-gun, and present our congratulations in our usual form.—[Hawtown Gibbet]

A stranger, wearing a stove-pipe hat and a boiled shirt, arrived in town yesterday, and put up at the Nugget House. The boys are having a good time with that hat this morning. The funeral will take place at two o'clock. Dog Ranch is unhealthy for swells.—[Dog Ranch Weekly Howl]

A painful accident occurred in French Gulch, yesterday, which has cast a wet blanket of gloom over a hitherto joyous, whisky-loving community. Dave Spiggle, or, as he was familiarly called, Murderer Dave, got drunk at his usual hour yesterday, and, as is his custom, took down his gun and started after the fellow who went home with his girl the night before. He found him at breakfast with his wife and three children. After killing them, he started to return, but being weary, he stumbled and broke his leg. Dr. Bill found him in that condition, and having no wagon at hand to convey him to town, shot him to put him out of misery. Dave was dearly loved by all who knew him, and his loss is a Democratic gain. He never disagreed with any but Democrats, and would have materially reduced the vote of that party had he not been so untimely cut off.—[Siskiyou Knock-Down]

A child of Whiskey Ben had an altercation with the Methodist preacher over at Michigan Gully last Sunday, and ended the discussion by carving in his abolition beard. The boy was presented with a new revolver by the Cumberland Presbyterians.—[Stars and Bars]

The scoundrel who tipped over our office last month will be hung to-morrow and no paper will be issued next day.—[Calaveras Shrieker]

Four babies who had been put into the cage at Hell Ship, yesterday, while their mothers played a game of draw, climbed over the side. We did not learn who won the last pot.—[Nigger Hill Patriot]

There is a man in town who claims to be the man who murdered Sheriff White, some months ago. We consider him an impostor seeking admission into society above his level, and hence people will stop inviting him to their houses.—[Frog Spring Herald]

An elderly lady, telling her age, remarked that she was born on the 22d of April. Her husband, who was present, observed: "I always thought you were born on the first day of April."

"People will might think so," replied the lady, "in the choice I made of a husband."

A Western paper announces the illness of its editor, plausibly adding: "All good paying subscribers are requested to mention him in their prayers. The others need not, as the prayers of the wicked avail nothing, according to good authority."

A Radical down in Connecticut, offers himself to his party friends as a candidate for office, in a card in the newspapers, as follows: "I will represent you in the state assembly, irrespective of politics, religion, or edification."

An English married lady has consulted her lawyer on the question, whether, having married her husband for his money, and that money being all spent, she is not a widow, and at liberty to marry again. Decision reserved.

A snip is called "abe" because a man knows not the expense until he has got one—because they look best when rigged—because their value depends upon their age—because they bring news from abroad and carry news from home.

The most striking difference between a township and its inhabitants has been settled to be that the township is laid out at the beginning of its existence, and the inhabitants at the end of theirs.

Josh Billings says: "When a young man ain't good for anything else, I like to see him carry a gold-headed cane. If he can't buy a can, let him part his hair in the middle."

A richly dressed lady stopped a boy trudging along with a basket, and asked: "My little boy, have you got religion?" "No, mam," said innocent, "I've got potatoes."

"Mr son," said an anxious father, "what makes you use that nasty tobacco?" The boy declining to consider the question in the spirit in which it was asked, replied, "To get the juice."

Never insure your life for the benefit of your wife for a greater sum than ten thousand dollars. A widow with more money than that is a dangerous legacy to leave posterity.

Southern men are boasting that this year's cotton crop is of more advantage to the country than all the gold that ever California has produced.

Why was Pharaoh's daughter like a broker? Because she got a little prophet from the rushes on the bank.
